2 SHOT IN BREAK FROM ALCATRAZ

Drama of Alcatraz—Fog-shrouded Alcatraz prison in San Francisco bay again is scene of wild drama as five desperate convicts brave guards' guns in mad break. Two shot, all recaptured.

Sees Again!—Blind 22 years, Mrs. Louise Madon, Fitchburg's 65-year-old mother of ten, sees again after double operation in Massachusetts General Hospital. With her is daughter Gloria, 16, born six years after eyes failed.

5 FLEE ALCATRAZ, 2 SHOT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13 (INS)—Bullets from sharp-shooting Alcatraz guards today foiled a cleverly-planned break from the famous "Rock" by Arthur "Doc" Barker, notorious ex-public enemy, and four other prisoners who had hoped that a dense, pea-soup fog would conceal their dash to freedom.

The five desperadoes sawed through a key bar that locked an entire cell block, walked from their individual cells, fled through a window and reached the rocky cliff of the island before the plot was discovered.

Barker, shot in the head and leg, may die, according to prison physicians. He was a co-leader of the Karpis-Barker gang that terrorized the nation a few years back. Karpis, also an inmate of Alcatraz, did not take part in today's break.

Ruppert, 71, Yanks Owner, Dies in N. Y.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, died at 10:28 a. m. today.

Ruppert, who was 71, had been in ill-health for many months. He took a turn for the worse early this week, and last rites of the Roman Catholic Church were administered to him.

Last April he suffered an attack of plebitis (inflammation of the veins), and complications developed.

Ruppert, a bachelor and owner of vast real estate holdings, had a fortune estimated as between $70,000,000 and $100,000,000.

Last night at his Fifth avenue home he was reported "resting easily."

During the evening he was given nourishment in the form of egg and milk. Then he said good night and went to sleep. His personal physician, Dr. Otto Schwerdtfeger, said this morning Ruppert had had a restful night.

Earlier this week Ruppert had expressed confidence in his own recovery.

One other plotter was felled by bullets. He was Dale Stampfhill, serving life imprisonment for kidnaping. He was wounded in both knees.

The three other inmates surrendered as guards closed in on them with high-powered rifles and machine guns on the rugged cliff looking toward the Golden Gate.

ALL LONG-TERMERS

They were Rufus McCain, serving 99 years for national bank robbery and kidnaping; Henri Young, 20 years for national bank robbery; and William Martin, Negro, 25 years for armed robbery of a postoffice.

In addition to Barker and Stampfhill, Martin was taken to the hospital. He was slightly injured as he fell down a cliff when the guards caught up with the desperate, escape-mad felons.

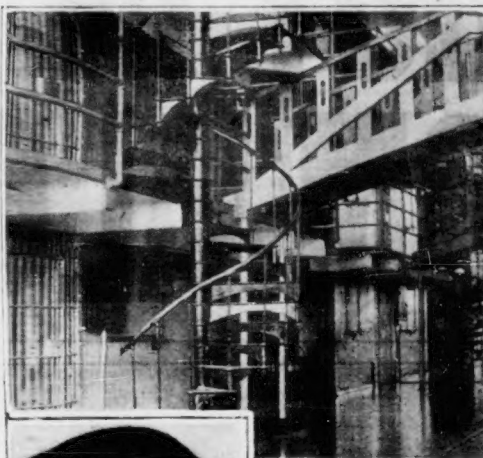

Prison physicians also treated Martin for exposure. Each of the fleeing convicts had partly stripped for a foolhardy swim to either the San Francisco or Martin county shore—a swim that prison officials termed was "impossible and crazy" in the cold, early darkness and fog. The nearest mainland point is one mile and three-quarters from the "Rock."

GIRL ONCE SWAM IT

Barker, serving life for kidnaping, and his fellow conspirators mapped their escape attempt after the same manner in which Ralph Roe and Theodore Cole, two young Oklahoma desperadoes, disappeared from the "Rock" 13 months ago.

Roe and Cole still are listed as "missing," although government authorities believe the pair drowned in the icy waters of the bay and their bodies washed out into the Pacific through the Golden Gate.

A girl, daughter of an Alcatraz guard, once made the swim from the "Rock" to a nearby shore, but only under ideal conditions—favorable tide, warm day and a bright sun.

Saving their way out of their "escape-proof" cell block about 4 a. m., the desperate quintet made a dash for the shore, but their absence was quickly noted and guards rushed after them.

Teachers Save Revere Schools

Mayor Lawrence J. Gillis, of Revere, today announced that residents should not fear Revere school closings because of a shortage in school funds.

The mayor based his assurance on the acceptance by Revere school teachers of a 10 per cent pay cut until June.

At a conference between the mayor and school teachers the city's present financial condition was outlined.

He said that restoration of the cut would be made in June, when the annual city budget is prepared, providing city finance improve

Hitler Asks Duce Pledge Year Peace

ROME, Jan. 13 (AP)—Adolf Hitler was reliably reported today to have stepped into Prime Minister Chamberlain's appeasement visit to Rome by urging Premier Mussolini to keep the peace for one year before demanding fulfillment of Italy's "natural aspirations."

From informed German quarters came the report that such a message was delivered by the German ambassador, Hans-Georg Viktor von Mackensen, in the second of two conferences yesterday with the Italian foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano.

Disclosure of the German Fuehrer's part in the Rome conversations came as Chamberlain turned from his talks with Il Duce to pay his respects to Pope Pius XI and saw results of the talks were being communicated to United States and French ambassadors to Rome.

AUDIENCE WITH PIUS

Significantly, Ambassadors William Phillips and Andre Francois-Francois were told of the Chamberlain-Mussolini talks of the past two days by the British foreign secretary, Viscount Halifax, in separate interviews this morning.

Another notable development of the morning was the British ministers' private audience with the Holy Father at the stately Vatican, Chamberlain and Pope Pius, devoted workers for peace, were together for 30 minutes.

Hitler's reported request was interpreted as indicating that the Fuehrer was not yet ready to make payment to Mussolini for his support at the Munich conference which partitioned Czechoslovakia and marked a milestone in European history.

Informed persons said, however,

Abolish Civil Service Board, Legislators Ask

Recommendation that the present civil service board, headed by Thomas H. Green, be dropped and that Chief Examiner James E. O'Neil be appointed director was made to the Legislature today by the special legislative commission appointed to study civil service.

Abolition of non-competitive examinations, 61 of which were given in the last three days of Governor Hurley's administration, is also recommended.

"There is ample evidence to indicate that members of the Civil Service Commission, appointed on the basis of party affiliation, approached their duties already politically committed," the report states.

In place of the present setup, the special commission would have a new five-man board of commissioners, with each member receiving $25 a day when in actual session, but the amount to each not to exceed $1500 in any one calendar year.

The present civil service commissioners are Chairman Green, Boston Democrat, at a salary of $5000, and Frank K. Bayard of Melrose, Republican, and Louis P. Capelle of Boston, Democrat, at $2000 each.

Chief Examiner O'Neil, career man with 17 years of service in the department, would be paid $7500 a year as director under the proposed new setup and would be the man practically in charge.

The report specifically recommends that all other persons employed in the department who are under civil service shall retain their civil service status.

New commissioners of the proposed five-man board would be appointed by the governor and council for one, two, three, four and five-year terms, with no more than three members of the same political party sitting at the same time.

In its report, the special commis-

FRANCES FRADA
Pleads Guilty to Morals Charge

'Death Ride Girl,' Youth Held in Raid

Back in the toils of the law today was attractive dark-haired Frances Frada, former Cambridge girl who landed in jail two years ago when she took a "pick-up" auto ride with Edward P. Simpson, later electrocuted for murder of two Newton police officers.

Miss Frada's present troubles grew out of her arrest in a North End house where police said they found her with a Newton youth, Daniel Mazzola 22.

He and she were both arraigned in Central municipal court today on a morals charge.

They pleaded guilty. At the time she was involved in the Simpson case, in 1937, Miss Frada said young Mazzola was her fiancé.

While she was held for months as a material witness against Simpson, she claimed her "chief regret" was the "ill-fated romance with Mazzola would be wrecked."

At request of police, sentence was not imposed today on Miss Frada and the youth. Their case was continued for disposition Jan-

Patient Wife Balks at 'Rival'

He called on his estranged wife with a girl friend—and that settled it.

In Roxbury court today John Sweeney, 27, of Main street, Malden, was charged with non-support by his wife, Doris, of Fort avenue, Roxbury.

"I left him three years ago and never asked for a cent, although I had two children to take care of," the wife told Judge Miles.

"The other night he came to see me for the first time and brought a woman he called the 'girl friend.' That settled it!" Sweeney said he just wanted to see the children. He was placed on probation for one year.

Smoking Ban Hits Athol Teachers

ATHOL, Jan. 13 (AP)—No more will the smoke of burning cigarettes, aromatic cigars or pungent pipes curl through basement retreats of Athol school.

The school committee has banned as a fire hazard, smoking by teachers in school buildings.

Quiz Schmeling On Goebbels 'Slur'

LONDON, Jan. 13 (INS)—Max Schmeling and his actress wife, Anny Ondra, were questioned early this week by Nazi authorities in Berlin regarding a threatening remark the former world heavyweight champion was alleged to have made about Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels' purported romances, the Daily Mirror said today.

Officials of the Gestapo (German secret police), and of the propaganda ministry interrogated Schmeling and his beautiful wife on Monday and Tuesday, it was said. But Heinrich Himmler, chief of the Gestapo, acting apparently by order of Chancellor Hitler, refused to arrest the couple, although Goebbels was said to have demanded it.

The Mirror in an undated article said the propaganda minister conducted a "violent campaign" against Schmeling and Miss Ondra after he heard that the boxer passed a derogatory remark about reports that Goebbels had been beaten to within an inch of his life by friends of Gustav Froelich, husband of the exotic Czechoslovakian film actress, Lida Barova, whose apartment Goebbels was said to have visited frequently.

At a party in a Berlin restaurant, the story goes, Schmeling said to a group of friends:

"It is lucky for Goebbels that he never tried to play around Anny. I would have broken his neck."

BOXER, WIFE QUESTIONED

The conversation was reported to Goebbels, according to the Mirror, and he immediately asked the Gestapo to arrest Schmeling and his blonde wife "for having uttered a gross insult and threat against a minister of the Reich government."

Schmeling was understood to have been called to secret police headquarters Monday, while Gestapo agents at the same time went to his home and questioned Miss Ondra.

The next day, it was reported, Max and Anny underwent questioning by officials of Goebbels' ministry, then were interviewed for two hours by Himmler himself. Himmler, the Mirror reported, "did not take the matter seriously."

Himself of Czechoslovakian birth, Anny Ondra is a close friend of Lida Barova. Lida, according to the Mirror, has been in hiding "somewhere near Berlin" ever since shortly before Christmas when it was announced that Dr. Goebbels had taken sick with "intestinal grip."

Goebbels, although he has twice talked over the radio—has made no public appearance since December 22 when, rumors outside Germany related, he was waylaid.

Milk Price Goes Up Cent A Quart Here

The retail price of milk in Greater Boston will go up one cent a quart, beginning Sunday morning.

Housewives will pay 14 cents a quart for delivered milk instead of the present price of 13 cents.

Store milk will cost 13 cents, instead of 12 cents.

The increase, a blow to thousands of city families on limited budgets, was authorized today by the Massachusetts Milk Control Board.

The board issued a public statement saying the price boost was "part of a general plan to get more money to farmers in recognition of the heavy losses sustained in the hurricane and flood of last fall."

A spokesman for the board told the Boston Evening American the retail price increase was occasioned by the action of the federal government in sponsoring a milk dealers' agreement to pay farmers a better wholesale price for milk.

A downward revision of both wholesale and retail milk prices was predicted after May 1.

The Greater Boston price boost Sunday will not affect cream prices, but Grade A milk will cost a cent a quart more than at present.

Tufts Dean Resigns After 45 Years

Marking 45 years of continuous service at Tufts College, Dean Frank G. Wren of the liberal arts school has resigned. President Leonard Carmichael announced today.

Heavy Snow Due Tonight

Okay, winter sports fans! Wax up your skis!

Heavy snow tonight and tomorrow is the weatherman's prediction for all New England.

Temperatures will probably rise somewhat in most sections hereabouts.

Along the coast, there's a possibility the snow may turn to rain late Saturday, but inland ski slopes are promised a favorable week-end.

Tobin Shows Improvement

Still suffering from a severe attack of bronchitis, Mayor Tobin was reported in "substantially improved condition" today.

His personal physician, Dr. Roger T. Doyle, said the mayor was still confined to his bed, however, and was still feverish.

The doctor continued his ban on visitors at the Tobin home in Hopkins road, Jamaica Plain, and the Tobin telephone remained disconnected.

Moscow Has Bananas at $1.50 Pound

MOSCOW, Jan. 13 (AP)—Bananas were sold on the streets of Moscow today for the first time since the World War.

Thousands of young people who had never seen a banana before lingered to marvel at the exotic fruit.

They stood in line to buy samples at 7½ rubles a pound—about $1.50 at the official exchange rate.

JAN. 23.

Miss Frada's role in the Simpson case was an innocent one, according to her testimony at that time. She went for a ride with him and was sitting in his car when he engaged in a gun battle with Newton officers, wounding two of them fatally.

Governors Protest U. S. Flood Plan

Two resolutions, one condemning Federal invasion of state rights, the other aimed toward bringing more industries into this section of the nation, were adopted today at a meeting of the six New England governors.

For two hours the governors conferred behind closed doors in the private office of Governor Saltonstall, then adjourned their session

Following the meetin, a corps of waiters served luncheon in the governor's office, and then the six chief executives took part in a coast-to-coast broadcast over Station WAAB and the Mutual Broadcasting System, under auspices of the Massachusetts infantile paralysis committee.

The state rights resolution, one copy to be sent to President Roosevelt and another to Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring, reads:

"We urge the federal government to co-operate immediately with the New England states to accomplish flood control without demanding the complete surrender to the federal government of basic rights which belong to the people in the states."

"We believe that the natural resources of all the states belong to the people thereof and that they should not be taken away without the consent of the states, acting through the duly chosen representatives of the people."

The industrial resolution provided for a committee of representatives from each New England state to meet and discuss way and means of bringing more industrial plants here and methods to prevent the migration of industry from one state to another.

ELECT SALTONSTALL

Although a proposal to merge New England railroads was discussed briefly, the governors came to no conclusion at this time, it was announced by Governor Saltonstall.

There was no discussion of any proposed sales tax or any other taxes, Saltonstall said.

The governors elected Saltonstall as their permanent president and Governor Francis P. Murphy of New Hampshire as secretary.

In addition to the governors, those at the luncheon were Philip Shuttler, director of the Vermont planning board; Miss Jean E. Douglas, secretary to Governor Aiken; James L. Langley, chairman of the New Hampshire Water Resources Commission, and James S. Hart, secretary to Governor Vanderbil. Others were Carroll L. Meigs, chief secretary to Governor Saltonstall; Russell Gerould and Daniel Lynch, assistant secretaries, and Dudley Harmon, executive vice president of the New England Council.

AIKEN LEADS FIGHT

Stating before the conference that he was seeking support of the other governors toward repealing the Barkley amendment, under which the federal government can take state and private property for flood control purposes, Governor George D. Aiken of Vermont said:

"The question is—can the Federal government take whatever resources it chooses, when it chooses?"

"If it can do so in Vermont, it will establish a precedent and there would be nothing to prevent the Federal government from taking the oil wells of Texas or the coal mines of Pennsylvania, or any other resources of any other state in the Union.

"We haven't denied the federal government the right to build the Union Village Dam on a tributary of the Connecticut river in the towns of Thetford and Norwich, and get power if there is any.

"We gave consent of the state of Vermont for the government to build the dam and an agreement was signed.

BROKE AGREEMENT

"Then, 17 days later, the federal government threw the agreement back at us and refused to carry out its terms, which provided for the state taking the land and then turning it over to the federal government.

"We hope that Congress will repeal the Barkley Amendment to the Federal Flood Control Act.

"We hope that public opinion will back us up and that the federal government will see the advisability of co-operating with Vermont."

Governor Aiken said he would ask the other five governors to join him in dealing direct with Congress, rather than with Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring, on questions arising from flood control funds.

Meanwhile today, at Washington, Secretary Woodring asserted that responsibility for any delay in the "much-needed flood protection" for the Connecticut river valley "lies squarely with the governor of Vermont."

Governor Murphy of New Hampshire said he was behind Vermont's Aiken "100 per cent."

Fin. Com. Plans Taxi Pass Probe

The Boston Finance Commission moved today to stage its own probe of favors allegedly accorded law-makers by leading taxicab companies of the city.

At the same time, a tempest of controversy was brewing on the ethics of the "free rides for legislators" situation.

The finance commission ordered summonses to be served on a number of witnesses, including at least six taxicab company officials.

PROBE TUESDAY

The witnesses will be questioned at a hearing to be held by the Finance Commission in Faneuil Hall next Tuesday afternoon.

No secret was made of the probability that the probe would center on identity of public officials alleged to have been beneficiaries of free taxicab pass books.

President Frank Sawyer of the Checker Taxi Company recently told a City Council committee that such pass books had been distributed.

Sawyer was one of the witnesses for whom Finance Commission summonses were being prepared today.

Another prospective witness named was Alvin E. Holson, president and treasurer of the Town Taxi Company.

DEFENDS FREE RIDES

Meanwhile State Senate President Joseph Cotton of Lexington defended the right of lawmakers to accept "deadhead" taxi "pass books."

He said:

"I have received the pass books on two occasions. I considered taking them in the same category as someone passing me a cigar."

"I don't see anything wrong in taking them, any more than I would in accepting a ball park ticket or a race track ticket."

Senator Donald Nicholson said:

"If anyone says I took taxi tickets, you can tell them it is my own business whether I do or not."

"I know what Senator Nicholson does and what he doesn't do—but that is strictly my business."

While many members of the Legislature refused to express their opinion on the alleged practice, Rep. Roland T. Sawyer, of Ware, spoke out sharply.

"I condemn the practice of any legislator accepting free transportation from taxi companies or any other transportation facility."

RAIL TIE-UP OVER

HAVERHILL, Jan. 13—Train service was back to normal today after a mile-long freight train broke down just outside Bradford and delayed scores of passengers between here and Boston.

ACTRESS Loretta Young, reported engaged to William P. Buckner, Jr., broker, is quizzed in Hollywood by SEC agent regarding Buckner's sales of Philippine Railway bonds.

Buckner 'Lovely'---Loretta

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 13 (AP).—Government investigators here to find out if motion picture celebrities invested in Philippine railroad bonds offered by William P. Buckner, Jr., New York promoter, learned today that wide-eyed Loretta Young thinks the broker is "a lovely boy."

"Certainly I know him; of course I like him," Miss Young said.

She appeared at the United States district attorney's office for questioning.

Their friendship, she declared, was "purely social." As for business dealings:

"Mr. Buckner never asked me to buy any of these Philippine railroad bonds, so naturally I did not invest."

Buckner is accused, with William Gillespie, of mad fraud.

Miss Young, whose name has been mentioned dramatically with that of Buckner, answered a direct question:

"I'm not engaged to him. He's just a friend and a fine gentleman. Am I going to marry him? I won't answer that. It's a question for him to answer."

Says Hubby Blacked Eye, Wins Suit

ELDA GRAHAM
Black Eye, Divorce

Her husband once blacked her eye so severely she couldn't go to work for two weeks, attractive young Mrs. Elda Graham of Worcester street, South End, testified today.

She was granted a divorce in Suffolk probate court.

Mrs. Graham said the alleged eye-blackening episode occurred on an occasion when she wanted to sit up with her husband and listen to the radio, but he ordered her to go to bed.

When she demurred, she testified, he beat her.

She had to wear dark glasses for a month, she told the court.

The husband, Francis Graham, did not contest.

Also granted a divorce today was Mrs. Alice M. Stonemetz, now of Cambridge but formerly of Englewood, avenue, Brighton.

She said her husband, John C. Stonemetz, former State street broker, was sentenced to Deer Island for larceny.

Before his arrest, she testified, he deserted her in Washington, D. C., and refused to support her when she followed him to Miami, Fla.

24 Flee Flames In West End

Seven children and their parents fled down a fire escape and 17 others were forced to the street in the bitter cold when a fire sent heavy clouds of smoke billowing through a four-story apartment house in Poplar street, West End, today.

Hero of the spectacular blaze, which blanketed the district in smoke, was Arthur Giglio, 21, who aroused his family and two other families and then ran 100 yards to sound the alarm.

Leading their children from their fourth-floor apartment, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Constantine felt their way along a narrow fire escape to an adjoining building and then descended through thick smoke to the street.

Youngman Wins By Scant Margin

By a one-vote margin, Arthur L. Youngman, Republican, took his place today as representative in the 26th Middlesex District, which is part of Medford.

A recount of the vote in the state election had given Youngman and George P. Bassett, Democrat, 11,429 votes each, but Youngman was ruled the winner by an extra ballot by Supreme Court Judge Dolan.

Vital Town Falls As Insurgents Peril Barcelona

LERIDA, Spain (Behind the Insurgent Front), Jan. 13 (AP)—The Insurgent command today announced capture of Tortosa, 100 miles southwest of Barcelona, strong point of the government's defense along the lower Ebro river. (Tortosa is chief town of the coastal area the government had held since the insurgents' great drive of last spring to the Mediterranean coast.)

(The Ebro formed the main defense line of this salient. The fall of Tortosa might indicate either that the insurgents had broken the Ebro line or that the government was hastily evacuating the Tortosa pocket.)

France's armies threatened early conquest of all lower Catalonia today as steady advances intensified the danger to Barcelona.

A swift thrust through from Falset to the sea would cut off heavily fortified government coastal regions.

In-Law Admits Mordoff Slaying

CHICAGO, Jan. 13 (AP)—The brother-in-law of Dr. Gordon E. Mordoff, elderly defendant in the notorious "Sonny Boy" baby paternity case in 1936, was held by police today as the confessed slayer of the prominent physician.

"SONNY BOY" MORDOFF

Walter L. Storms, deputy chief of Chicago detectives, said the confession was made by John Quinn, 63, shortly after his arrest last night at his South Side home. A pistol was found in the rear of the home.

Police Chief Floyd McGuire, of suburban Wilmette, scene of the shooting yesterday, said Quinn, 63, the 52-year-old physician for the death of Mrs. Mordoff three years ago. Chief McGuire quoted Quinn as follows:

"He killed my sister. She died from a broken heart caused by worry and disappointment. He took her life so I snuffed him out."

Detective Joseph McCabe said Quinn was a former convict who had served a six-year term for robbery in the Illinois penitentiary at Joliet.

The slayer fired two shots as he entered the physician's office in the suburb. Dr. Mordoff fled down a corridor and stumbled into the reception room of Dr. Floyd L. McGrath's office, with the slayer in pursuit.

From the entrance of the reception room the gunman fired a shot which shattered the glass of an inner office door. Dr. Mordoff swung open the door and was standing in front of the startled Dr. McGrath when the slayer fired a fourth shot.

"You killed Dr. Mordoff," Dr. McGrath shouted to the gunman. "If he's dead I'm satisfied," was the reply.

Dr. Mordoff died without naming his assassin. The gunman departed unharmed, passing Dr. Walter Schnur, a dentist, and the latter's secretary, Esther Pinkowski, in the corridor.

44-Hour Week Urged in Bill

Representative Henry Kalles of Boston today filed an 18-page bill with the House clerk concerning minimum wages and hours for all workers in this state.

Kalles provided 44 hours at 30 cents an hour as minimum the first year of employment, 42 hours at 40 cents the second, and 40 hours at 40 cents the third year. After seven years the minimum would be at 45 cents an hour, for 40 hours.

At the same time Representative Charles F. Hogan of Lynn filed a bill providing a 1 per cent excise tax on gross incomes.

The money would be used to reduce the state debt and help cities and towns pay old age assistance costs.

13 Her Luck!

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 13 (AP)—Countess Virginia De Laune, 13th child in a family that included 13 boys, celebrated her 101st birthday today, Friday the 13th. "It is not so much happiness to be very old," she said. "I would not want to live much longer."

Urges Bay State Give Indians Own Reservation

In Massachusetts going to be given back to the Indians—part of it, at least?

Conservation Commissioner Ernest J. Dean announced at the State House today that Massachusetts hasn't "done right" by the red man on its obligation of centuries ago.

Consequently he has asked that a 600-acre reservation be established near Fall River.

He said the state had violated an agreement between Massachusetts, chief of the Wampanoag tribe, and the pilgrims by allowing the white man to drive him from his grounds.

Senator Cornelius F. Haley, of Hallowell, asked that a seven-man commission be appointed to investigate buildings and activities at Massachusetts State College at Amherst with a view to economies. A legislative commission sponsored a bill that would abolish an assessment of $500,000 annually on the 39 cities and towns in the Metropolitan Boston district by the district commission for highway maintenance.

Britons Scheming To Build Up Fear Of Nazis in U. S.

(Special to the Boston Evening American)

LONDON, Jan. 12 — Various British newspapers commenting on Germany's increased submarine construction program, seek to create the impression FOR AMERICAN CONSUMPTION that the Nazi Reich is building long-range U-boats equipped to menace the UNITED STATES as well as Britain.

The London News of the World recently declared:

"Today America" begins the transfer of large naval forces from the Pacific to the Atlantic. News of the World understands that Germany's move is intended as a reply to what is regarded as a hostile naval demonstration.

"Germany's existing strength in submarines is adequate for her requirements when these are measured against her European risks. That is to say, she is safe from Russia in the Baltic, she has nothing to fear from France, and so far as Britain is concerned, she obviously has no cause for anxiety, since the existing treaty arrangements are of her own making.

"The explanation of her change in naval policy is clearly due to her quarrel with the UNITED STATES, arising out of her treatment of the Jews and her attitude of aggression toward her weaker neighbors.

"She now proposes to build very much larger vessels, capable of wide radius of action without refueling."

OBJECTIVE IS RUSSIA

As a matter of plain facts, Germany's naval preparedness is aimed particularly and specifically against Russia, and while the German navy might be used against England, France or the United States if any of these countries went to war with Germany, still the German navy is so feeble a character as to be utterly useless in conflict with any of those countries—especially with the United States—so far from Germany's naval bases.

The Sunday Dispatch, reviewing the possible reasons for Germany's submarine plans, stated:

"If Germany should construct U-boats of 1000 tons or more—SUCH AS BRITAIN'S LATEST SUBMARINE TYPES—it may be presumed that her motive is to prepare for the possibility of submarine warfare with Britain AND THE UNITED STATES, and that she may have been influenced by the recent decision of the United States to build an Atlantic fleet."

The evident object of the British press, as well as the British politicians, is to try to tie up American interests with British interests and to give the impression that America is menaced by Europe's preparations for war and threats of war.

ALL FEAR U. S. AS FOE

America is not menaced if it minds its own business, for the very simple reason that while every foreign nation is anxious to drag America into war to support it, no nation is willing to drag America into any war to oppose it. Many nations want to use and exploit America as an ally, but no nation is anxious to arouse it as an enemy. If America gets into war, it will be through its own folly and credulity and through the wiles of false friends who want only to borrow American money and use American resources and manpower in their own quarrels.

English and French and Russian propaganda is shrewd and persistent, but had experience should have taught the American people not to be misled by it.

There is a wise proverb which says, "If a man fools me once, he is to blame, but if he fools me again I am to blame."

It would be well for the American people to remember how badly they were fooled once and not be fooled again.

Hopkins Fired '100 for Politics'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Harry Hopkins testified today he had discharged "between 100 and 200 persons for political activity in connection with WPA."

Hopkins, who testified before the Senate subcommittee on the activities of the Federal Works Administration, said he was "not sure" that the firing of 100 persons would result in an "outlet of fear," but said the women had been told repeatedly they did not need to make political connections to hold jobs.

"How many warnings to WPA employees did you issue against political activity?"

About six or eight general warnings," Hopkins answered quickly, and then added, "and a great many other specific ones all over the United States."

PENNSYLVANIA'S FUND

Hopkins said he had fired 100 persons from the WPA in Pennsylvania. He said he had fired 100 persons from the WPA in Pennsylvania.

"When did you become familiar with it?" Johnson asked.

"I can't say exactly," Hopkins replied. "In August or September of last year. We discharged 400 or 500 persons."

We were embarrassed there by a local politicians trying to get people to contribute. Most of them were political people not working for the WPA at all."

SCORES CONTRIBUTIONS

"I was not characterizing it as worse than Kentucky," Hopkins replied. "But I would say it was a good deal worse."

"Do you remember Johnson?" Hopkins said. "I don't. I was not characterizing it as worse than Kentucky."

Glamour Girl In Coster Case

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (INS)—A young society girl who today became one of the leading figures in the now fantastic career of F. Donald Coster, Massachusetts president of McKesson & Robt., was committed suicide.

The cafe society beauty, twice married and twice divorced, though she is not yet 30, frequently was a guest on Coster's yacht, and at his home in Fairfield, Conn. It was said by an intimate friend of Coster.

indications grew that most of the $11,000,000 Coster had in three months accumulated at one time from the drug companies was spent for entertaining in New York.

Deal Chiefs Fight Revolt on Relief

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—House leaders mobilized their shock troops—the Democratic "whip" organization—in a final effort today to quell a revolt against the administration's relief program.

Before the House resumed debate, Chief Whip Pat McCarran of Nevada, called his 16 assistant whips together to see what might be done about halting the stampede to slash WPA funds. The appropriations committee had been reported to have a strong feeling that the House would cut off the $400,000,000 WPA appropriation. The House had been expected to vote on the bill today.

Kane Urges Cut In Number of School Teachers

A reduction in the number of Woburn school teachers is urged today after Mayor William F. Kane stated $45,000 from the administration is needed to operate the city's schools.

The budget as first presented to the mayor last October, it was said, was a "budget of hope" for the year, based on the assumption that the city would receive $100,000 from the state.

Last year the school department asked for $100,000, but the same amount as this year, but received only $25,000 or 25% more than 1938 figures show.

"It was the failure of Woburn's school committee to operate the school system within the budget that caused teachers and other school employees to go payless for two months," the mayor said. "If they cannot meet their payroll regularly under the budget then they should reduce their teaching staff."

The city budget now awaiting approval totals $1,010,000, approximately $40,000 less than the

A boy twin who survived the death of his brother, gained strength today at the Strong Hospital in East Boston. The twins were born to Mrs. William Prutelle, Garfield Avenue, Roxbury.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 13 (AP)—Christmas would be December 26 and Washington's birthday is Feb. 22, but a calendar company has taken pictures of the stars' faces and placed them on the calendar of 1939. The calendar, which is now on the shelves of the company, shows the faces of the stars in the month of their birth. The company says it is a fine thing.

The new calendar was offered by Chester Louis L. Harris, 1000, better known as "Chester" and "Abner". The calendar is sold for $1.00 and an extra $0.50 for the red.

Today was the first day of the year when the calendar was not a holiday.

Roosevelt Tells War Plane Plans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt expressed the belief today that sufficient plants existed to build new planes for the nation's defense. Some of the plants he mentioned were the Ford Motor Co. plant at Dearborn, Mich., the Packard Corp. plant at Detroit, and the Chrysler Corp. plant at Warren, Mich.

President Roosevelt stated that the government would not be building new plants, but that it would be expanding the existing ones. He said that the government would be building new plants for the production of war planes, but that it would be expanding the existing ones.

Chamberlain Pays Visit to Pope Pius

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 13 (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, Britain's traveler, for peace, paid his respects to Pope Pius XI, Pope of peace, in a 30-minute private audience at the Vatican today.

Shifting with a cold, in top hat and frock coat, Chamberlain and his foreign secretary, Viscount Halifax, with their party drove into the Vatican courtyard in five Papal limousines. They were received by the Pope's chamberlains in gaiters and red-coated uniforms.

They were escorted by Monsignor Meo to the Pope's private study in the Vatican.

Chamberlain, first, spoke with the Pope, and then members of the party were admitted. On the way Chamberlain got the highest grade of his visit—a series of "His Holiness" cheers from the British and Canadian envoys.

Governor Asks Infantile Aid

Governor Saltonstall interrupted his conference with five other New England governors today to make an appeal for the "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign.

"As Governor of Massachusetts," he said, "I say to the men and women throughout the country, in the words of Daniel Webster, 'Massachusetts, these standards—organized 100 per cent in this fight. Let us all unite to eradicate this scourge and to give aid and comfort to the victims'."

Sharecroppers Foodless in Snow

NEW MADRID, Mo., Jan. 13 (AP)—Snow and sleet laid new misery today on the ragged shoulders of southeast Missouri's tattered demoralized army of sharecroppers and farm laborers, conducting a siege on public opinion in hope of succor from their economic plight.

The sharecroppers, who have been struggling for months to get their families fed, are now being driven from their homes by the weather. They are now being driven from their homes by the weather. They are now being driven from their homes by the weather.

Regaining Sight, She Turns Cook

FITCHBURG, Jan. 13—Between two eras of sunshine and sight, the black shadow of blindness for 22 years lay across the life of Mrs. Louisa Madon, 65. And today, once more, she has climbed the heights of human endeavor.

"Yes," she admitted, proudly, "I can cook again."

RECIPES HER READING

Now she wanders in her modest home in Fitchburg street here. I can find the recipes in a cook book now.

"I can take orders and give I can make all kinds of pastries and meat dishes. Here, in my kitchen, I can be happy once more."

to be blind, she had to feel for things that would help her find the things she needed. She had to feel for things that would help her find the things she needed.

FIRST SIGHT OF CHILD

"Blindness is worse when you've been able to see, and then can't see any more."

"Feeling used to things I've only heard of, that's fun. But most of all is seeing my daughter, Edna. She's 16, and was born after I lost my sight."

Fox's car ran over a black skunk yesterday and he stopped to salvage the skin, since an all-black skunk is worth something extra on the fur market.

A few minutes later Fox's car crashed into a fence, and a fence rail pierced the dashboard and grazed the driver, almost impaling him.

The car was towed home. When Fox tried to remove the fence rail the machine burst into flames and was destroyed.

So was the skunk.

That's Right, It's the 13th!

In case you hadn't noticed it, it's Friday, the 13th. A good day to walk around ladders, stay off thin ice, speak softly to the little woman.

Also, as a good day to combat down the temptation to race railroad trains to the cemetery, and to avoid passing any rough or long cuts. Unless you assume of these two points for which 13 means only you should respect yourself, probably with care.

Battered Youth Held as Looter

Battered and bruised from a severe beating administered by three Somerville aldermen, a Cambridge youth was to be arraigned today on a charge of looting the automobile of Alderman Ralph Garrett.

The alleged loot was seized in a brief but serious battle which threw Harvard Square, Cambridge, into a turmoil. During the fight, police said, the suspect, who gave the name of Charles R. Condon, 22, of Massachusetts avenue, brandished a loaded revolver.

Garrett, who lives in Middlesex parkway, Somerville, and Aldermen Alan Roy Knappston, Irving L. Shapira, attended a meeting and then went to a restaurant.

The incident occurred as they emerged and walked toward Garrett's car in Church street. They saw a man running toward them, brandishing a gun. He was jumped by the three aldermen.

Garrett, 22, police reported, for Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the others, who after the shooting and the police, were arrested and taken to the police station.

The arrested man, Condon, has a record for a conviction of being a juvenile delinquent. He is a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

ROBERT T. PAINE

Lynn Officials Silent After Fight

A Lynn city council member of the licensing board today, following a minor disturbance at a hearing of the licensing board at which Councillor Walter A. Cuffe allegedly punched Horatio H. Murphy, member of the commission.

Licenses under consideration at the meeting were those of a saloon and a tavern.

Waltham Pair Face Court In Bold Extortion Plot

HERE is where G-men and Waltham police nipped a plot to extort $2000 from Robert Treat Paine, lawyer and financier. It is a spot at edge of his Waltham estate. Man was seized after accepting package supposedly containing the cash demanded in three letters threatening Paine's life.

Recipes and Menus by Martha Lea, every day in the Boston American.

Caught in a trap which snapped abruptly shut at the very instant of success, two Waltham men accused of a $2000 extortion plot against Robert Treat Paine, faced arraignment in federal district court today after a night of imprisonment.

Charged by police and G-men with writing letters which demanded money from Paine, the two men, James Sweeney and George J. Sweeney, were arrested at their homes in Waltham.

Paine, 51, is a prominent lawyer, who has been a member of the Waltham town council and is a member of the Waltham board of selectmen. He is also a member of the Waltham board of health.

A letter from Paine to the G-men, dated January 10, was found in the apartment of the two men.

NEEDED MONEY
Paine was said to be in need of money for his son, Donald, who was a student at Harvard University.

"I needed the money," Paine was said to have written in the letter. "I am a poor man and I need money for my son."

"Keep this secret if you want to live."

The money was to be handed to the extortionists at 6 p. m. at the driveway to the Paine home.

Special Agent Virgil W. Peterson, head G-man in New England, and Chief Asst. E. McKenna of the Waltham police, along with five other federal men and three police officers surrounded the estate.

DEMANDS "PACKAGE"

One of the G-men, 6 feet 3 inches tall and chosen for his close resemblance to Paine, stood down the driveway with a package in his hand at the appointed hour.

A stranger walked up, asked for "the package" and presented a note instructing that if he turned over to the box. The box was a small one, containing a package.

He protested that he knew nothing of an extortion plot, that he had met an "unknown man" in the downtown section of Waltham who had offered him $1 if he would present a note to the Paine driveway.

Paine, seized shortly afterward, on Sweeney's identification, said he lived with his son in "Touffain street." He worked only occasionally at odd jobs, he told police.

Capture of Sweeney was witnessed by a man who said he had seen him at the Paine driveway.

SHOT LED TO ANOTHER

DENIED, G-men searched the apartment of the two men, while the animal was taken up, a cork pheasant and then the bird when it flushed at the sound of the first shot.

Diagnosis of Insanity From Saliva Test Now

By C. B. LAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (INS)—Discovery of a simple method for early diagnosis of manic-depressive insanity, greeted as a notable advance in medicine by leading psychiatrists, was announced today by Dr. Edward L. Strongin.

At the psychiatric section of the New York Academy of Medicine Dr. Strongin presented the details of his new test and the results of its application to a number of patients.

For the first time in a few months the test was applied to a patient who had been under treatment for manic-depressive psychosis for several years. The test was applied to the patient's saliva and the results were as follows:

1. The patient's saliva was found to contain a high percentage of parathyroid hormone, which is a characteristic of manic-depressive psychosis.

glands in the mouth.

It was found that persons having manic-depressive disease have a markedly lower rate of activity of the parathyroid glands.

The test was applied to the saliva of a patient who had been under treatment for manic-depressive psychosis for several years. The test was applied to the patient's saliva and the results were as follows:

2. The patient's saliva was found to contain a high percentage of parathyroid hormone, which is a characteristic of manic-depressive psychosis.

Among other nationally known psychiatrists who have been consulted was Dr. E. J. Connelley, Jr., of the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston.

In the opinion of these authorities, the test is a valuable aid in the diagnosis of manic-depressive psychosis.

100 More Puck Contest Victors Are Announced

This may be a "year day" for some, but not for members of the Boston Game Weekly Puck Club. One hundred of them were announced today as winners of money prizes in the contest which appeared in your Boston Sunday Advertiser Jan. 1.

In addition the contest judges awarded an extra $500 prize of $1 to the lucky winner, 422 Main street, Seattle, for a contribution of exceptional merit.

The honor of being chosen, for the first time, champion of the contest went to Louise Ashley, 1217 S. Lavaca street, San Antonio. Two Girl club members again won a most special prize for Jan. 1, and as a consequence won money prizes.

The percentage was 542 girls and 34 boys.

Bill White contest editor, denies one is better boy or girl, but says, "But Bill White, co-editor has her own ideas."

Another Stars and Stripes Club contest appears in your next Boston Sunday Advertiser. Turn to the Game Weekly Puck section, and see how many of the assembled business leaders you can solve.

Winners of the Jan. 1 contest will be announced in your Boston Evening American Friday.

Readers of the Boston Sunday Advertiser to find the Friday 13 ink by crossing today's list of winners with the following:

Massachusetts: Henry Laidwin, 76 Cross st., Franklin; Alice O. Sawyer, 5 South Maple ave., Bedford; Benjamin Darnley, 4 South Maple ave., Bedford; Florida Muller, 43 Tudor st., Chelsea; Anne Mackenzie, 1925 Mass. ave., Cambridge; Marion Weeks, 149 White st., Haverhill.

NO METER NEEDED

The Editor Says:—Our artist's cartoon is hardly an exaggeration; when SOME Massachusetts legislators ride in SOME taxicabs, the meters might just as well be ripped out and thrown away.

THEY CERTAINLY ARE NOT USED.

No less an authority than the president of an important Boston company confirms that statement.

Questioned by City Councillors, he is quoted not only as admitting FREE pass books were issued to legislators, but also as asking: "WHAT OF IT?"

The people of Massachusetts will not so readily dismiss the matter.

The people, abundantly conscious of the fact that a favor given is too often a favor expected, will surely ask:

WHO are the legislators that ride without paying?

WHAT do they do to merit this special consideration?

WHY should a LUXURY for private citizens be a PRIVILEGE for office-holding citizens?

"WHAT OF IT?" will scarcely do for legislators, the people's elected SERVANTS.

THE TAX CUT PLAN of Mayor John W. Storrs of Concord, N.H., may amuse thousands, but it will hardly inspire imitation among other cities.

Briefly, Mr. Storrs, irked by constant criticism, threatens to close schools, halt garbage collections, turn off street lights, put snow plows in storage, give employees a month's vacation and lock the City Hall.

His argument is that residents would be so inconvenienced by the absence of municipal services that they would gladly pay taxes.

The Mayor takes too much for granted. As he says, a modern city cannot be maintained for nothing. But—and few will dispute the fact—a great many modern cities could be maintained for little.

It is a pity that a municipality to give taxpayers an object lesson in the ridiculous economy. It is too much like suggesting that a man shoot himself to avoid the expense of further existence.

CHEERFUL NEWS comes from the Boston Chamber of Commerce. It concerns the important announcement that 119 Mayor's Council and business organizations will meet here this year.

The sessions, including the current convention of the Society of Master Painters and Decorators, will bring at least 150,000 men and women to Boston during 1939.

These visitors will stay at our hotels, eat at our restaurants and patronize our stores. And that spells prosperity.

Traffic and government make Boston the IDEAL CONVENTION CITY OF AMERICA. We need only the opportunity to open our doors to the nation, particularly to those wealthy organizations that are always ready to come to visit us.

World Moves Toward Faith

By EDWIN C. HILL

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

AMONG our heavy-duty thinkers, there has been a retreat from Jungtology, during the last year. The "haunch, paunch and pawl" theory isn't what it used to be and there are new and respectable sanctions for belief in a life force which isn't conditioned solely by such erratic factors as the heaviest wallop or the sharpest claw.

That was one trend which even the man in the bleachers at the recent Richmond, Va., scientific tournament could plainly see. Looking over some abstracts of addresses delivered at this meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, this particular bleacherite found signs of a new orientation of scientific thought.

THERE is in the scientific world a new hypothesis of a super-morality and super-consciousness which is a surprising challenge to the perversions and distortions of the theory of evolution which alibied much of the strong-arm imperialism of the last century and this one to date.

Since Darwin states his theory of the survival of the fittest, the world has taken him all too literally and turned to a rock-and-sock morality, without even Queensbury rules. Force has become the final arbiter among the nations.

'Bugs' Baer Says:

INSPECTOR BYRNES is chivalrous and gallant. He is an admirer of the fair sex. But duty is duty. Therefore, the Inspector must warn the public against Kid Glove Rosie, Old Mother Hubbard, Black Lena, Creeping Tillie, Big Bertha, Red Kate and Brockey Annie.

EACH ONE of the ladies, bless 'em, is as crooked as a Colonial street and as evasive as a fly in a butcher shop. They are all expert shoplifters, hotel thieves and confidence women. The Inspector says that these charming debutantes would steal a pump-handle in a drouth.

BROCKEY ANNIE is particularly nonchalant in her views on property rights. The smartest of them all was Big Bertha who started in 1880 by embezzling $1035 from the conductor of a Pullman Palace Car.

THE INSPECTOR says that most of these ladies become sharper after marrying crooks.

NEXT WEEK the Inspector will present the last article in his remarkable series on criminals. Always a gentleman and a scholar, he experienced pangs in arresting a member of the fair sex and instructed his detective never to strike a lady with his hat on.

COMMENTATOR EDWIN C. HILL

"The Soul of Man Is Not at a Dead-End"

The scientists say it cannot go on.

As I get it, they aren't throwing the theory of evolution out of the window. They are moving farther down the old back road, seeking a fresh start with Chevalier Jean Baptiste Lamarck, Darwin's predecessor, born in 1744.

Such philosophers as Friedrich von Bernhardi, warring and shouting German militarist, and his brilliant but mad predecessor, Nietzsche, found in Darwinian evolution a brutal rationalization of forces as the only law of life.

Bernhardi's book, "Germany and the Next War," published in 1912, was the natural complement and to a degree the inspiration of Germany's temporarily thwarted outreach for world domination.

From 1914 until today we have had an impressive demonstration of what it all comes to. And along the far-flung front of science, in many nations there is a new challenge and new outlook and a high-hearted determination to find and formulate a way of life chartered by morality rather than force.

IN EVERY scientific gathering, beginning with the Harvard Tercentennial of 1894, there has been carried forward an effort to mobilize the creative forces of enlightened thought—and that is taking them back not only to Lamarck, but to Aristotle and Plato.

The point is that all the Olympian thinking of today finds that the soul of man is not at a dead-end, and that there are today higher and more authoritative sanctions for faith and hope than ever in the history of the world.

A Soldier's Advice:

'Let Us Mind Own Business'

By GENERAL VAN HORN MOSELEY
(An Extract from Recent Address)

WHEN WE SPEAK of peace and prosperity we often have in our minds good business, growing better and better. Good business is a by-product of good government.

There are two definite things we expect of good government. First, that peace with honor and self-respect may be maintained, and second, that we may have order and law so that the individual may live in peace, his life and the fruits of his honest toil honestly rewarded and fully protected.

But what are the facts at this very moment?

In a very troubled and sensitive world, we are injecting ourselves in a most irritating way into the internal affairs of certain neighbors and thus stirring up for ourselves future difficulties which one day may lead to war. There is no excuse for us to become involved in war. There is not a single cloud on the international horizon that cannot be dissipated by proper diplomacy. Let us either have the character to use force in insisting that others live as we think they should, or, better, let us mind our own business as to the family life and internal affairs of our neighbors. It is very clear that the thinking American citizen wants us to mind our own business. Very definitely they do not want war. Soldier that I am, I believe they are right.

WHETHER WE LIKE IT OR NOT, Japan is an ally for the time being and complete control of the Far East. She will dominate who will trade in her new spheres of influence and there is no appeal from her decision except war, and again, the American people are not going to war for any cause now pending in the Far East.

The opportunity to make an enduring peace with Japan is presented if we will but face present-day conditions and take advantage of the present state of the new power at the present hour as the Mideast. Japan's attack was a necessary part of her policy and a necessary part of her policy. I believe an opportunity to join with us in establishing peace in the Pacific is being lost. The status quo of our Far Eastern possessions, in recognizing our Monroe Doctrine in Pan America, and in acting as our jobber in handling American trade on a preferential basis within her sphere of influence.

PLEASE BEAR IN MIND THAT SINCE JAPAN TOOK OVER MANCHURIA, OUR TRADE IN THAT STATE HAS THRIED.

JAPAN HAS BEEN our third best customer, buying from us six times more than does China. Naturally, Japan will endeavor to finance her way by monopolizing all Chinese trade, but in rebuilding China she will need much in the way of raw materials, much in the line of heavy equipment that she cannot furnish and all that should come from us.

Some will say that there is a complete monopoly of our good friend China. No, the American people were as a unit in refusing to go to war to assist China and the open door policy. Today, in assisting in the rebuilding of China, we will hasten that day when a new, modern China, of more than 400,000,000 of people, will be able to settle her own affairs with Japan very definitely.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

TROUBLE Every body has it. Trouble, however, is not the same as the trouble we all face every day of our lives. How shall we handle it? In stillness or despair, we wait for a solution after another.

Sometimes we run away. Sometimes we try to cover it up by lying, evading, blaming the other fellow. Or weaker still, we make a racket of our Grief. Publicly flaunt it to obtain attention or avoid responsibility. YET ALWAYS THE "CURE" SEEMS AS HARD IF NOT WORSE THAN THE ORIGINAL CAUSE. LEAVES US MORE BITTER, MORE SHAMED.

But there's another method, truly different than these. Some spunky spirits neither turn their back on Trouble nor frame it with Neon lights. Instead, they meet it head-on, chin up.

THERE'S AN OLD STORY of a man who met Trouble in this way—many a year ago—at the old Jabbock on a dark night. Yet dark was the night, it could not equal the shadow that gripped Jacob's heart.

And there were memories, memories, gnawing at him night and day until life held at last, but one desire. TO RE-ENTER OF THIS FEAR.

So Jacob gathered together a great peace offering of flocks and fowls, slaves and treasure and travelled many days until he came, finally at dusk, to the old Jabbock where, on the morrow, the meeting was to be. And there after all had fed and the tent lights were lit and the cattle and the people gathered and babbled together. Jacob went out into the night and walked alone, for his Trouble was upon him and he could not sleep.

Taunting questions went on and on within him, such questions as clow at us all, when our Memories walk in the night. And presently—as though his Trouble had taken actual form—a Presence detached itself from the darkness and stood before him. . . . and advanced upon him.

And Jacob knew, without words, that his life had come to an issue at last. . . . and that this dark and silent struggle was to be his last. He could run away—as so often he had run from the Truth. Or he could stand and meet what came. But which ever he did would mark him forevermore.

AND JACOB stayed. And the hours passed. . . . and the wrestling still went on. And there was a great weariness upon Jacob. . . . and a hollow in his thigh where the battle had gone against him. But still he fought.

Then the sky lightened. And the Presence cried, "Let me go, for the day breaketh!" But Jacob, gathering his last strength, answered only, "I WILL NOT LET THEE GO, EXCEPT THOU BLESS ME!"

So Jacob was blessed. . . . and came out of the darkness with a proud, new heart. But always he carried with him that limp of Victory!

"I WILL NOT LET THEE GO, EXCEPT THOU BLESS ME!" There is the only answer a man may make to Trouble with any self-respect. . . . or hope of profit.

Do not run from Trouble or try to cover it up. Do not be ashamed of Trouble or twist it into a racket. Above all, do not waste Trouble! See it and use it for what it is. . . . A CHALLENGE and an OPPORTUNITY.

MADAME HELENA RUBINSTEIN INSPECTS MINIATURE DINING ROOM
Her Fondness for Dolls Inspires Unique and Fascinating Hobby

Girl About Town

LOTS OF WOMEN they say, never quite get over their fondness for dolls. Madame Helena Rubinstein, the famous beauty authority, is one of them.

That's why she began, thirty years ago, the hobby of doll collecting. And she has now a collection of over 100 dolls. But a collection of dolls is not a hobby.

Now it is represented by 25 miniature rooms, each with rare furniture and objects of art, as far back as the 16th century.

At the time of the 16th century, there is a perfect rooming of the collectors in the 16th century. It is the new Rubinstein salon, 11 Northway street. It is for the Espinasse Concerts. And, for the enjoyment of many, there will be a champagne supper also.

THERE ARE some 50,000 miniature objects in the collection, each one an authentic antique of its own period. Architects and interior decorating experts were engaged to design the little rooms so they would portray average rooms throughout the centuries. Even the wall hangings are made of antique fabric.

A few days ago a Boston antique expert was discussing the collection and he doubted, but told, that the furnishings had been made as long ago as the 16th and 17th centuries. And so, a few of the rare pieces were sent to him for his examination. He no longer questions their authenticity.

THIS IS just the time of year (I don't know why,

Lots so when we feel we simply must have a new hat. A deliberately Sprague-like hat in fact. A hat that is witty, colorful, and "selective." The fashion magazines so frequently call them. A hat that is just what you need. A hat that is just what you need.

It is not just a hat, it is just a mood which a hat can give you. It is not just a hat which a hat would look a hat in the group with the rest of your outfit. It is not just a hat which a hat would look a hat in the group with the rest of your outfit.

Let me tell you, depressing when a girl meets a man who is a hatless hat, her mother.

To get upon a young track
And to be out of it with
Of paper, eggs and desks and such
Would really be a good

With beach attached, appeals to me.
I'm grieved to be compelled to state
My boss does not co-operate.

LABOR'S NEED

By HUGH S. JOHNSON

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The National Labor Relations Board today announced that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members.

The board said that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members. It said that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members. It said that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members.

This sounds fair in theory. In practice any employer who is not a member of the National Labor Relations Board is in a bad position. It is a bad position. It is a bad position. It is a bad position.

NO SUCH CHANCE. The board said that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members. It said that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members. It said that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members.

The board said that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members. It said that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members. It said that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members.

The board said that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members. It said that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members. It said that it would issue orders to employers to stop discriminating against union members.

ON THE OTHER HAND some union strategy is to pick a minority strike with intimidation and violence and to postpone an election until it has spoiled all these racketeering pressures. The Board's ruling practically underwrites and encourages this practice.

Here again what is needed is discretion in the Board to consent, or refuse to consent to move in, depending on the equities and upon request from any interested party. But not in this Board. It has already shown what it would do with the discretion by refusing to exercise it.

What is an employer to do confronted with two unions—A. F. of L. and C. I. O.—when the Board refuses to hold an election to tell him what to do?

It is an unfair, hated and impossible situation that the remedy is rather in changing men than in changing laws.

Black Hawks Not To Get Shore

Eddie to Delay Becoming Pilot

By JACK CONWAY

EDDIE SHORE, Bruins defense star, has told Boston friends he is NOT interested in becoming manager of the Chicago Black Hawks . . . Shore would like to lead a National Hockey League club, but he has studied what happened to the capable and popular Bill Stewart in Chicago . . . Stewart was fired even though he gave the Black Hawks the famous Stanley cup.

Mr. Boston

Chicago would have had to pay the Bruins at least $30,000 for Shore, but now that Eddie has definitely turned thumbs down on any plan for him to take over the leadership of the Black Hawks he will remain in Boston for the remainder of the season . . . Shore may be able to secure what he considers a good berth as manager by the opening of next season.

It is natural that Shore should like to insure his future in hockey by becoming a manager . . . Eddie is 36 years of age, and realizes he is coming to the end of the hockey trail . . . Shore could probably carry on as an active player for two or three more years if he wished to do so, but he would be more satisfied if he were pilot of a club and only had to play under special conditions.

Shore's defensive work has been one of the reasons for Frankie Brimsek's sensational success as successor to Tiny Thompson as goalie for the Bruins . . . Shore has also given 100 per cent help to the development of the rookie Bruins . . . There isn't a club in professional hockey which has so many young stars as Art Ross . . . As a result the Bruins should be a top team for many years, and when Shore realizes his ambition of becoming a manager, there will be plenty of first class material to take over his position.

Shore's decision to refuse to consider any offer to become manager of the Black Hawks was a wise one . . . When Eddie does step out as a manager, he should do so under better conditions than those that exist in Chicago . . . It must have been pleasing to Shore to get the reaction of the fans last Tuesday night when it looked as if he was going to depart from the Bruins . . . The cards reading "We want Shore" held by gallery fans proved the high esteem in which Eddie is held by the fans.

When Shore gets what he believes is the right spot for his try as a manager, he will find the whole town rooting for him . . . Meanwhile Eddie will continue to keep the Bruins on Victory trail.

Bruins Certain to Be in Hockey Playoffs

THE BRUINS are certain to be in the hockey playoffs this season . . . On the way the picture looks now, the Bruins will probably clash with the New York Rangers, and if they win take on the Toronto Maple Leafs . . . Art Ross would probably get an extra thrill out of having his club battling the Maple Leafs in the finals of the Stanley Cup series . . . Such a condition would give Art an opportunity to gain revenge for the setback received by the Bruins at the hands of the Maple Leafs in the playoffs last season . . . A few better "breaks" last season, and the Bruins might have beaten the Maple Leafs rather than losing three straight games.

The Maple Leafs will clash with the Bruins at the Garden on Tuesday night . . . This should be one of the most thrilling games of the season . . . It will bring together two great teams, and the battle for ice supremacy should be a bitter one.

Brimsek Has Perfect Control of Nerves

IT IS SELDOM that a star athlete has such perfect nerve control as Frankie Brimsek . . . This is why this young star was not a bit jittery when he took over Thompson's duties . . . The average young hockey player would have carried a tremendous mental hazard under similar conditions, and would not have played his normal game . . . To Brimsek the experience was merely an opportunity to prove what a brilliant hockey player he is.

Judge James E. Dooley, owner of the Providence hockey club, was even more certain than Art Ross that Brimsek would make good with the Bruins.

"Nobody has to worry about Brimsek doing a great job at goal for the Bruins," said Judge Dooley at the time Thompson went to Detroit . . . "Frankie will not only make good, but he will also prove he is the top goalie in the game."

Ross had full confidence in Brimsek's ability to make good, but there are few pilots who would have the courage to have partnered with an experienced star like Thompson, and placed a rookie in his position . . . Detroit paid the Bruins $15,000 for Thompson.

The fact Tiny and Eddie Shore did not get along any too well may also have been a factor in the big deal being closed . . . Thompson used to protest against the numerous wild dashes Shore made up the ice at critical points of a game . . . Eddie has always been a "fire" player who believes in taking chances in an effort to get goals.

This season Shore has not tried to score as frequently himself as he has in former years . . . He has been satisfied with setting up the play for one of the Bruins' dashing forwards . . . It has been this perfect teamwork that has made Shore one of the great stars of hockey.

Harvard Defense Rugged

College hockey followers who flock to the Arena tomorrow evening to witness the first Quaid League game of the winter between Harvard and Princeton will watch a game featuring two distinct styles of play.

If Harvard can stick to the type of play outlined to them by Clark Hodder, they will give the New Jersey boys one of the roughest evenings they ever experienced.

The rough tactics of Charlie Houghton, Win Jameson, Forbes Perkins, and Bill Coleman slowed the recently visiting Queen's six down to walk.

On the other hand the Princeton team relies more on their fast-skating forwards to slow the opposition's attack down.

As the battle now stands, the game should develop into a fight between the fast, clever skaters of the Tigers and a rugged hard-hitting Harvard team.

Coach Clark Hodder has decided to use Vin Freedley in the Crimmins cage. Freedley's work in the Queen's game was of high order and gives him the edge over Dave Mitchell, his closest rival for the job.

Warrenton Fit For Pastor Go

Tiger Warrenton has shown good form while training here for his ten-round bout with Bob Pastor of New York that will be staged by the Argonne A. A. at Mechanics Building on next Thursday night.

It will be Warrenton's best opportunity to step into the big money. If the Nova Scotia heavyweight can win over Pastor, he will have to receive serious consideration as a title contender.

Pastor is working at Lou Stillman's Gym in New York. He is already in good condition as he has kept active in the ring.

In his previous Boston appearances Pastor won from Al McCoy and Tony Shucro.

Sport-O-Grimes

After a two-day lay off, the Bruins resume practice today at the Arena . . . Manager Art Ross will bring them along slowly until Sunday and then will order them to shake off the wraps and get ready for the Maple Leafs, who will be at the Garden next Tuesday night . . . Pres. Bob Quinn announced this morning that Harl Maggett, who was a utility man last season for the Bees, has been sold to Hollywood, of the Pacific Coast League . . . With the re-enforcements that the Bees have acquired since the close of the 1938 season, Maggett got a break when he was assigned to Wade Killifer . . . He lives in California and naturally would prefer to play on the Coast rather than in the East . . . Defensively, Harl Maggett isn't much to look at, but he can powder that pill and should hit better than 350 for the club which is owned by Joe E. Brown, Pat O'Brien and Bing Crosby . . .

Pat O'Brien, who played with the Internationals during the pre-war days, died suddenly in Sherbrooke on Wednesday . . . Joe McKenney, associate director of athletics for the City of Boston high schools, convened with his coaches last night at the Hotel Lenox . . . Before McKenney gave out the football schedules for next fall, all of his coaches expressed desires to meet South Boston . . . Steve White will have a green squad representing "Southie" next season . . . Last fall, "Southie" was undefeated . . . Phil Hergeshelmer, the former Bruin Cub, has scored 21 goals for Cleveland . . . John Hurley, who is playing defense for Brighton High School, has a wooden leg . . . He is a pitcher on the ball club and fields bunts better than the average schoolboy hurler . . . Don O'Brien and Lou Lee will head for Miami, one week from Saturday . . . They will visit the Bees and the Red Sox camps before returning home in April . . . The Jordan Marsh Co. has signed up Joe Stein, Manchester, N. H. Country Club; Roland Wingate, The Country Club, and Lou Cottrill, Bear Hill, for its golf school instructors . . . During a telephone conversation from New York to National League Field yesterday, Frank Stevens told George Hunt that Bill Delaney was back in the well known "pink" and a nuisance around the office . . . Pete Noonan, the old Holy Cross catcher, visited Bob Quinn yesterday concerning the quartering of the Bees during trips to New York . . . Among the speakers at the Newburyport High School sports night next Wednesday will be Tom Keady and Leander McDonald, two former coaches, and Jerry Sullivan.

BOB QUINN

Fele Noonan, the old Holy Cross catcher, visited Bob Quinn yesterday concerning the quartering of the Bees during trips to New York . . . Among the speakers at the Newburyport High School sports night next Wednesday will be Tom Keady and Leander McDonald, two former coaches, and Jerry Sullivan.

Comiskey Steals Farr's Thunder

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (INS)—Along Broadway today we find the fight mob... with fingers crossed... for Friday the 13th... one non-superstitious gent is Welshman Tommy Farr... who advises he bet a chunk on himself... at 11 to 5... to take Red Burman tonight.

Promoter Mike Jacobs' store teeth clicking merrily... A suit sign the advance sale's good... Mike going to try an innovation... By staging a four round prelim... Between Patrick Edward Comiskey and Marty Leberman... Just before the main event.

Comiskey's attracting more attention than anybody on the card... And Jacobs predicts he'll be paying the 18-year-old heavyweight $2500 for a four-round bout within a year... Provided Patrick Edward continues his sensational belting... which has resulted in five one-round and one two-round kayos to six starts... Even Dempsey never got $2500 for a four-round.

Professor Bill McCahey postcards from Berlin under Dec. 30th date... "Steve (Dudas) and I knocking 'em dead... Sam Schmeling... He says he's going to fight again. He and Max Machon left today to hunt wild boar..."

Bill Grimes Named To State Golf Post

Bill Grimes, Golf Editor of the Boston Evening American-Sunday Advertiser, was today appointed to the State team and rules committee by the Massachusetts Golf Association.

Other members of the committee are Chairman Dick Wakeman, Francis Oulmet and K. M. Gardiner. Grimes has a long association with golf, and is considered one of the leading authorities on the game.

cramped neighborhoods—the brick tenements and teeming life under the elevated tracks. They went toward more spacious sections in the suburban districts where there were open fields and acres of grassy park—the Blue Hill region in Boston and the Bronx in New York.

There was more leisure for this third generation of Jewish youth, and so began the latest phase of development. The boys began to play baseball, golf and tennis. And, as money became more plentiful, their persistent racial thirst for learning sent them to high schools, private academies and colleges where they began to play football.

Toward Racial Renaissance

THEY PLAYED THESE GAMES WELL, so that Jewish names are no longer a novelty in the major leagues and variety stadiums, where at least one Jewish boy is used on every team. So, by now, the Jews have learned the full meaning of play, whether for fun or profit, or both. Moe Berg is with the Red Sox, Hank Greenberg with Detroit, Harry Danning with the Giants, Fred Sington with the Senators, Phil Weintraub with Cincinnati and Andy Cohen with Toledo. Remember Andy? He was the momentary answer to John McGraw's prayer for a Jewish ball player who might tap the vast reservoir of Jewish fandom in a time when Jews in baseball were as non-existent as fuzz on a frog's lip.

So, as the American born Jewish people have emerged from the repression and ill-nourishment of the racial experience in middle-Europe, their small frames and meager muscularity has changed. Their boys have become gradually larger, thicker of bone and longer of muscle and better adapted to the boisterous forms of U. S. sport. This, all Jewish Leaders realize—that the stature and physique of young Jews is developing perceptibly. They look for a racial renaissance in sport and the full flower of the Jewish play period.

Cream of Crop To Show Wares In State Tilt

State championships will be at state Monday night when the Irish American A. A. holds its weekly boxing session at the Arena with 24 bouts making up the card.

Competition will be in all eight classes, from flyweight to heavy weight, with four boys seeking honors in each classification. Winners will qualify for the New England championship meetings on March 13, when a team will be selected to represent this section in the National A. A. U. Championships in San Francisco in April. The 135-pounders who will swing from all angles are all hard hitters, Theodore Tuggles, George Beckles, Gennaro Demio, Springfield student, and Arthur Murray, Boston footer, make up the class.

Johnny Hayes, 1938 N. E. England A. A. U. N. E. All-America and Eastern All-America 175-pound champion, heads the list of light heavies.

Blue Hills Scene of Walk

The Ponkapog section of the Blue Hills reservation will be the scene of outdoor activity on Sunday when the WPA recreation division in conjunction with the Metropolitan district commission conduct a long hike and nature walk.

The long hikers will meet at 11 a. m. at the Ponkapog golf course entrance on Washington street, Canton, near the junction of the Stoughton turnpike, and time will be taken out during the course of the hike for fishing, if conditions are suitable.

At the same starting point at 2 p. m. there will be a nature walk under the leadership of Harry George Higbee, staff naturalist, who will talk as he walks on "Winter Evergreens" and this woodland area of historic Ponkapog will be an ideal place to observe these interesting forms.

Budge Wins Fourth In Vines Series

DETROIT, Jan. 13 (INS)—Don Budge, former king of the world's amateur tennis, today was another step advanced toward professional supremacy after conquering Ellsworth Vines, California professional, in a thrilling 24 game set at Detroit last night, 6-3, 6-6, 13-11.

It was Budge's fourth victory to three for Vines.

100 IN SKI CARNIVAL

CHICAGO, Jan. 13 (INS)—More than 100 jumpers, the largest field ever entered, will compete Sunday in the 26th Ski Club's 33rd annual tournament at Cary, Ill. It was announced today. Outstanding among the performers are Olaf Ulland and Reidar Anderson of Norway. Ulland holds the world record for the longest jump, of 338 feet, and Anderson has won the international event at Holmenkollen in Norway three times.

Cunningham Idle; Venzke Favorite

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (INS)—Gene Venzke may return a victor in the three-quarter-mile run of the 69th regiment A. A. games tomorrow night.

The former University of Pennsylvania Olympian, now a member of the New York A. C., has for many a year been cracking 4:11 and 4:12 for the mile, consistently doing a splendid job in every event.

GENE FLYING

Were it not for the unapproachable Glenn Cunningham, Venzke would have won, and would still win, his fair share of mile features, losing occasionally to an Archie San Roman, a Bill Bonthron.

The 29th Regiment A. A. games tomorrow night present one of the few occasions in which Cunningham, the Kansas master, will not be on hand. Cunningham cannot get away from his lectures in Kansas.

Venzke, on the basis of that 1:37 he raced in the 800 meters at the Columbus Council, K. of C. meet last Saturday—behind the 1:33 of Cunningham of course—figures to have the speed, and to be in the form, to take the three-quarter mile first prize.

The opponents of Venzke include Sam Roman, who has yet to flash his form of 1937; Leslie MacMicheil, N. Y. U. freshman; Dick Bauer, former West Point middle-distance runner, and the National A. U. 800-meter titlist, Howard Buck.

BOSTON GETS BREAK

Incidentally, many of the finest athletes of the section will compete in the Boston A. A. games Jan. 28 in track, rather than in the metropolitan championships in Jersey City the same evening.

The Metropolitan A. A. U. registration committee turned down a request of the board of governors to deny traveling permits to boys who wish to go to the Boston A. A. games instead.

Ice Stars Host To Newsmen

The entire cast of the "Ice Follies of 1939," expertly staged pageant which is holding forth nightly at Boston Garden, today officially played hosts to the newspapermen of Boston with a luncheon at the Boston Garden Club.

Beas Ehrhardt and Evelyn Chandler, co-stars of the Follies, were voted tops by the writers who had previously been among the most enthusiastic spectators at their ice performances and today waxed equally as loud in praise of these lovely ladies off the ice.

Eddie and Roy Shipstad, Oscar Johnson, Karl Zwack and Idi Papper, Mr. and Mrs. McGowan and every single member of the stellar cast were at the luncheon.

The Follies run through Sunday night, with matinees tomorrow and Sunday.

Watson Head Of Corinthian Y. C.

Vice-Comdr. Daniel E. Watson was named commodore of the Corinthian Yacht Club to succeed Comdr. Walter R. Bell at the annual meeting at the University Club. The new three-star flag officer owns the 30-square-meter Lail-Singva, former Swedish Royal-Bowd winner, and also has been prominent in the M-B and R class racing.

The other officers elected include vice-commodore, Frederick J. Shepard, Jr.; rear-commodore, Harry N. Bloomfield; treasurer, John P. Squire; and secretary, Richard D. Seaman.

Arky Vaughn Signs At Increased Figure

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 13 (AP)—Arky Vaughn, the Pittsburgh Pirates' shortstop, whose heavy hitting placed him fifth among National League batters last season, returned his signed contract today.

The Pittsburgh Club, following custom, did not announce the new figure but informed observers said it was certain Vaughn received a substantial increase.

Tufts Major Track Factor Since Dussault's Advent

By HERB FINNEGAN

Clarence is his name—Clarence Dussault. But don't tell him I told you. He's been "Ding" ever since we used to undulate (barefooted) over the undulating fairways of the Alliston Golf Club—now National League Field.

Ding always could run. Better, he can teach others the trick. For proof, scan the Tufts track records.

Ding came to Tufts in 1932 under Bascom Bogle (Whatever became of Bascom?) Ding took over the Tufts head coachship in 1933.

Name me two Tufts track stand-outs before Ding's advent there.

I can recall John Doherty of harrier fame but I can't recall any Jake Driscoll or Sopsy Waters.

Can you?

But since 1933! That's a different story.

Tufts can hold its head up now in major league track competition, thanks to Ding. And Tufts is getting to the spot where it will be able to put its head and shoulders above any of its competitors.

Ding can make 'em. Who ever heard of Larry Quinlan before he entered Tufts?

Who ever heard of Bob Folsom?

FOLSOM, QUINLAN

Quinlan couldn't break five minutes when Ding caught him but he wound up by winning the Eastern Intercollegiate mile in 4:21.1.

Folsom never ran in high school.

But he holds the Tufts 600-yard record of 1:14.1, and this winter will be a member of the crack B. A. A. one-mile relay which include Gill of B. C. Cook of Williams and Raymond of B. U. That's traveling De Luxe.

Ding has a barrel of corn ready to pop at the indoor meets.

Few of them had high school rep-utations.

Tufts doesn't go out and get 'em. But Ding can multiply 0 times 20 and make the answer come out 20.

He's got a one-mile relay which will hold its own in any competition. Larry Lungren, Alex Flandreau, Don Newton, Eddie Dugger and Allen Hatch are the five leading candidates for the team.

In the two-mile relay he's got Dan Sampson, Andy Keegan, Art Shaw, Bill Atkinson and Gordon Brinard.

HARVARD TOMORROW

His two-mile relay came within six yards of winning the event in the K. of C. meet last winter. His team this year will be in the contention from the start.

In addition he's got Frank Bennet in the dash, Holts Pageal in the pole vault, Dave Follard and Humphrey Hosmer in the shot, Dick Wilson and Laurie Grant in the high jump.

Grant, by the way, won the N. E. A. A. U. championship in 1937 as a freshman with a leap of six feet, two inches. He's only a junior now.

They open their season tomorrow against Harvard in an informal meet in the Briggs Cage, and they carry on from there as follows:

Jan. 21—Y. M. C. A.

Jan. 22—N. E. C. meet.

Feb. 4—New Hampshire.

Feb. 11—B. A. A. games.

Feb. 18—Northeastern.

Feb. 11—N. E. A. A. U. championships.

Feb. 25—Tryl meet with Mass. State and Worcester Tech.

OLYMPIC MATERIAL

Olympic material?

"Digger positively," says Ding. "He'll win the 440-yard low hurdles in a walk. He's good enough to win the 120-yard high at the indoor meets, and he can run any distance up to the half. Mark him down now as a sure winner in Finland."

"And Ray Valenti, my freshman anchor. By 1940 he'll be doing 48 in the quarter. He's good for 1:16 in the 500 right now, and he's only starting. I'll bet he does better than 51 seconds in the K. C. meet."

How is Ding so positive they will make the Olympics?

I'll tell you.

He was instructor at the Ringer Playground, Alliston, 10 years ago, and he had a kid by the name of Joe Healy under him. Ding sent him to N. Y. U. and Joe went on to win fame in the 440-yard low hurdles in the 1932 Olympics at Los Angeles. Look at the records.

There was a kid visiting Healy the same year. Ding saw him throwing rocks at the bunkers of the old Renilworth links. Ding put a shot in his hand, sent him to Georgetown and saw him break the world shotput record at the same 1932 Olympics. His name was Leo Sexton.

Ding can spot them a mile away. "Let me tell you about DUGGER and Valenti," he warned up. Some other day, Ding.

At Season's End A Howard Customer Is Still a Friend!

Nearly two million men, who come back for Howard Clothes again and again, appreciate the fact that the Howard price never varies. When a man buys a Howard garment in October for $22.50, he knows that the price in January or February will still be the same. This price is never marked down, because it is never marked up to stand a mark down.

Remember, too, you are never asked to pay some more... for $22.50 is the only price in every Howard store. Just another reason why, at season's end, a Howard customer remains a friend. One trip to a Howard store will tell you more and sell you Howard Clothes.
